SEMINAR DESCRIPTION

Enhance your organization's security with training that's practical and addresses what works for real people under highly chaotic and potentially dangerous circumstances. Hileman Security Training Group focuses on people and the Life-or-Death Gap™. If you are going to assign the responsibility of keeping people secure, it's critical those trained be highly skilled in security and true leaders. Learn how to create a culture that supports employee and customer security!

- Commuter Safety/Security: Many times, security courses cover your employees' safety and security while at work and discuss policies and procedures for keeping the building secure. But, what if the most dangerous part of your day is the commute from your house to the parking garage or parking lot at work? This course will discuss what to be looking for during your commute to avoid and/or respond to crimes like carjacking, car theft, robbery, abduction, and many more incidents that happen outside the workplace.
- Realistic Self Defense: In the bank, security programs discuss avoidance, compliance, and reporting procedures. However, there are times when employees may be assaulted and many times we find they don't realize they're allowed to defend themselves if necessary. This course will highlight practical and effective solutions that do not rely on techniques taught in a martial art setting. These tips will be provided to students while they are seated in a chair and are designed to be thought-provoking and empowering.
- Video Debriefs: This course will be full of videos that show incidents of carjackings, robberies, thefts, pickpockets, abductions, and many more crimes. We will watch the videos, debrief them, discuss what we could do differently, and by doing so, we will be tricking our mind into believing we've experienced more incidents than we actually have.
- Criminal Mind: Learn how criminals choose victims. Learn what they are looking for and understand how to avoid being chosen as a victim in the first place.
- Security Assessments & Training: We will discuss what the industry is currently doing. What works, what does not work, and what we need to do to change the culture of the organization from the top down. Attendees will receive a security assessment form created by Hileman Security Training Group so they can conduct their own assessments at their branches.
